

Denver MEGA Seminar Calls to CICs and CRMs

AUSTIN, TX, January 7, 2010 – James K. Ruble Seminars are especially created for the continuing education of Certified Insurance Counselors (CICs) and Certified Risk Managers (CRMs). The James K. Ruble MEGA Seminar offers more choices to those designees than any other program of The National Alliance. Each MEGA Seminar features an abundance of sessions, and a national faculty of niche experts; the Denver seminar adds to all that the full variety of inspiring mountain views, and the flexibility for participants to schedule their own update experience.

During the five-day MEGA Seminar, participants will be able to choose among many first-time and current subjects like:

- The Additional Insured Dilemma
- Environmental Liability Insurance and Its Role
- Healthcare Risk Management
- Professional Liability Exposures
- Homeowners Tricks and Traps
- The Eye of the Storm – Crisis Management
- Enterprise Risk Management, and many more.

Last year, The National Alliance celebrated its 40th Anniversary. The Denver MEGA will be a continuing celebration of the special combination that CICs and CRMs often make of meeting their continuing education requirement and enjoying a rejuvenating vacation destination. These extraordinary educational events are also opportunities to re-establish a professional network with knowledgeable colleagues. Priced at $420, participants get current, practical information on the most recent industry developments and may attend as many sessions beyond the required 20 hours as they wish.

After 40 years, The National Alliance community of participants, designees, board members, faculty and staff, has grown in size and scope, and always in the pursuit of continuing education and excellence.
